

Le Gavroche

United Kingdom

Project

As part of the restaurant's first major overhaul in 18 years, there was a need to supply a new flooring to the Michelin-starred London restaurant Le Gavroche.

Sherwin-Williams and Resintek Services Ltd worked together to supply the flooring to the new kitchen that was custom designed by Eximius Projects.

Finding an easy-to-clean, durable material that could be installed quickly, in line with the client's specification and programme, were critical factors that had to be considered.

Substrate: Concrete.

Requirements: To be easy-to-clean, durable material.

Specifications: Meeting all relevant environmental and health and safety regulations.

Area coated: 100m².

Client: Le Gavroche.

System

The flooring system chosen was a heavy duty, food grade, water-based polyurethane screed system Resuthane™ TG69 for the 100m² floor area and coving.

This proved ideal because of its seamless, textured, non-slip and non-taint properties that are ideal for food preparation areas.

The finished floor combined the highest standards of hygiene and safety with superior durability and fitted the aesthetic environment.

The Sherwin-Williams Difference

By putting our customers first, we know that the innovation, imagination, research and development we put into each and every product will be worth it. You are at the centre of our thinking wherever we operate around the world across five continents whether it is advice, specification or on-site inspection. You are the reason we exist. This is the Sherwin-Williams difference.
